Who am I?

I'm not your typical suit-and-tie executive. I provoke, disrupt, and thrive on pushing people beyond their "appropriate" selves. Just like Jamie Catto beautifully put it, I dance with masks until they slip, revealing the true, illuminating fun within.

Gone are the days of buzzwords and flashy titles. My superpower? Making you unlearn, challenging the status quo, and having a blast while doing it.

From nurturing new ideas to fostering partnerships and cultures, I'm here to shake things up.

"Sam provokes and disrupts, a wind-up merchant and a tail puller, a prodder and a poker.

When he meets someone's 'appropriate' mask his first impulse is to want to dance with them to the edge of their 'appropriate' version of themselves and see what illuminating fun can be had when the mask slips."

Client excerpt from Insanely

Gifted by Jamie Catto

Friends, family, clients, and colleagues have instilled in me a habitual drive to lead and help others succeed.

I generate ideas, transform them into actionable solutions, and collaborate with incredible minds at every organizational level. I've walked the path of risk, failure, and triumph, inspiring me to keep succeeding.
